Qualified individuals/firms include those experienced in providing enrichment classes or services on campuses in the following four areas: Academic Assistance, Enrichment, Family Engagement, and College and Career Readiness (see 'Attachment A: AISD Four Component Activity Guide').

VI. SCOPE OF SERVICE AND PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS

- A. AISD plans to provide OST activities and classes for youth at all grade levels any time school is not in session. This includes before and after school, summer recess, vacation days, and weekends, that:
- 1) Provide opportunities for academic enrichment, including providing tutorial services to help children, particularly students who attend low performing schools, to meet State and local student academic achievement standards in core academic subjects, such as reading, math, and science.
  - 2) Offer students a broad array of additional services, programs and activities, such as youth development activities, drug and violence prevention programs, counseling programs, art, music, physical education and fitness programs, and technology education programs that are designed to reinforce and complement the regular academic program of participating students.

VI. SCOPE OF SERVICE AND PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS (con't)

- B. AISD plans to offer family and parental support services and activities that support and help to increase the participation of parents in the students' educational experience. Services may include:
- 3) Adult literacy, ESL, technology, job training, health and wellness, parenting, and/or parent-child learning opportunities
- C. AISD envisions a system of OST programs that are coordinated and aligned with the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills and the AISD Curriculum Roadmap. AISD OST programs must provide opportunities for academic improvement that include the provision of instructional services to help students meet state and local standards. Students enrolled in the OST programs should experience the activities as different, but connected to the school day.
- D. Respondents should provide high quality and clearly articulated expectations for students' development and achievement. Programs will focus on measurable outcomes related to school success and youth development, which may include some of the following Critical Success Factors:
- Improved academic achievement
  - Improved school day attendance
  - Improved behavior
  - Improved graduation rates
  - Improved promotion rates

(see "Attachment B" for chart of Afterschool and Parent Support Critical Success Factors)

- E. Respondents should demonstrate that the proposed program is based on research showing that effective (OST) programs are those that are based on identified student and family needs, aligned to school-day activities, adapt instruction to individual and small group needs, provide engaging learning experiences, maximize student participation and attendance, and use assessments of program performance to improve program quality. Such high quality OST programs are an integral part of the pipeline to graduation and college success. All of the proposed services and activities should be designed based on research about what works in OST programs – primarily research from the Department of Education's "What Works" Clearing House publication Structuring Out-of-School Time to Improve Academic Achievement and research about family engagement from the Harvard Family Research Project. AISD uses an evidence-based assessment tool developed by the Weikart Center for Youth Program Quality (YPQ) and trains all afterschool staff and contractors on best practices for activity development and implementation.

VI. SCOPE OF SERVICE AND PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENTS (con't)

Respondents should participate in the YPQ initiative by agreeing to assessments and trainings offered by AISD. In addition, all of the proposed project's family engagement activities are based on the national parent involvement standards established by the National PTA, including: 1) regular, two-way, meaningful, communication between home and school; 2) promotion and support of parenting skills; 3) active parent participation in student learning; 4) parents as welcome volunteer partners in schools, 5) parents as full partners in school decisions that affect children and families, and 5) outreach to community resources. AISD will take a coordinated approach to engaging families so that those most in need will have multiple points of entry into the continuum of services available through this program.

- F. Respondents are expected to supply instructors, curriculum, unit and lesson plans, materials and supplies for the proposed activities. AISD generally pays between $60 and $75 per hour depending on the number of instructors provided and the cost of materials.
- G. Respondents should demonstrate their capacity to serve English Language Learners (ELL) students in the district. Currently, 25% of AISD students are classified as ELLs.
